Port of Gijón

Gijón, the most natural destination for tourist cruises

In recent years El Puerto de Gijón has experienced a notable increase in stopovers, moving around the 20 annual stopovers and exceeding in many cases the 30,000 passengers a year.

The Port of Gijón, located in the center of the Spanish Cantabrian Coast (43°34' / 5°40'W), is integrated into the cruise routes of the European Atlantic and also in the repositioning itineraries between the Baltic and the Mediterranean.

A sheltered, easily accessible port, it is able to accommodate the largest cruise ships that exist today on the market, in any weather conditions.

An ideal port, for large vessels due to its berthing facilities (the largest cruise ship docked in Gijón: Anthem of the Seas and its twin Ovation of the Seas – 348 m length), as well as for smaller and more luxurious vessels, including the more and more common expedition cruises.

Cities, nature, culture, gastronomy.....All the necessary information in order to plan the most pleasant and satisfactory stay in Natural Paradise.

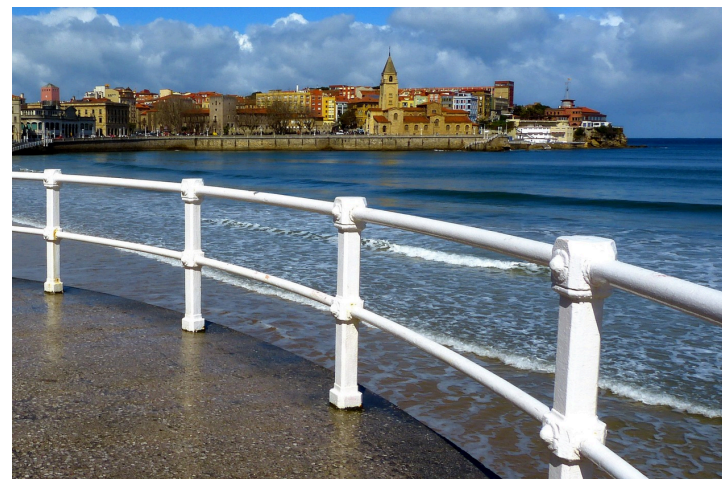

Welcome to Gijón/Xixón, Asturias' most populated city and capital of the Costa Verde or "Green Coast". Take a trip through 2,000 years of history that embrace important pre-Roman and Roman remains, a rich Baroque heritage, magnificent examples of Art Nouveau and monumental buildings such as the former Universidad Laboral. Stroll through its streets and immerse yourself in rich seafaring traditions, Enlightenment councils, tales of emigrants to the Indies (Indianos) and waterfronts and those first tourists who, at the end of the 19th century in the wake of royalty, enjoyed the revitalizing pastime of "bathing in the waves". Enjoy the city's surrounding countryside, its rich cuisine, with seafood, fish and cider taking centre stage, the sea, its passionate cultural and musical life and its year-long programme of festivities. We propose a tour to make the most of a day out in our town.
